the Heartbreak Diaries Series

ARE YOU READY FOR THE HEARTBREAK?

the Heartbreak Diaries is a collection of romance-suspense stories. This series dives deep into the various hearts we love, like, or lust with when approaching dating, relationships, marriage, and even situationships. What's unique about this series are the "hearts" in each book telling their story from a real and vulnerable place. Each book has a "dear diary" moment from an integral character, displaying their logic and true intentions within the heartbreak.

Reviews

Relationships are difficult and women's emotional needs are...interesting. This book paints a wonderful portrait of those emotions. Very descriptive and enjoyable. (Rushing to Distraction)

The characters were relatable and it was a true page turner!! Can't wait until the next book in this series. (Wrong Vengeance)

This was a great story...This is a story that could have gone either way, but I am glad with the way it ended. It was emotional and being a woman I could understand all of the devastation and emotional moments she went through. (Devastation or Destiny???)

Pen Name: The Blakk Dahlia

"The Blakk Dahlia" is a "pen name" inspired by the true story of "The Black Dahlia" (high profile Hollywood murder victim). The mystery of her brutal death was her claim to fame. However, the public knows little of her REAL story. There were speculations of her life before that brutal day which will always have missing pieces of the puzzle. But only she knew, and unfortunately, she was not able to tell her story. No matter the story of where the winding road of life was leading her, The Black Dahlia died full of dreams.
